A Dec Puzzled By Dress. -Acattleman from Arizona, William Wilson by name, has just come down to the city, and brought with him a dog that would have delighted the heart of the author of "Sartor Resertus," for the animal flaunts a truly Carlylean contempt for the fripperies of civilization and the useless adornment of clothes. Mr. Wilson sent Nugget, the deg, to board with a dog fancier in a canine boardinghouse, and then went to a clothing store and exchanged bis cowboy's rig for new clothes of the lat est cut. The next day he called on Nugget, but Nugget would have none of him. The master whistled to the dog, petted him, and made every effort to make also understand that affection was not changed, even though c'othes had been. The dog looked up at the silk hat which had taken the place of the broad brimmed slouch hat to which he had been accustomed, sniffed at the dude-likcane and surveyed the light trousers from points of view, and then walked off to the corner of the room, lay down, and gave a long, mournful how! Mr. Wilsen tried to coax him out of the corner, but Nugget would look up to him with a knowing expression in his eye, and occasionally gave the feeblest little wag to the end of his tail, but he could not be ::duced to reconsider his evident determination not to recognize his master in any such ridiculous attire as that. Mr. Wilson went to his hotel, donned his cowboy rig sgoin and then returned to Nugget's quarters. The instant the dog saw him, he was almost wild with joy, and his delight at seeing his master again clothed as he thought a man ought to be, was almost unbounded.

DRAGGED TO DEATH -A singular accident occurred at Elizabethport, N. J., Thursday morning, by which Robert Barrett, one of the best known residents of the place, was instantly killed. He started out early in the morning from his residence in an orcinary covered grocer's wagon for Elizabeth.
Soon after ten o'clock Andrew Martsell, a resident of Elizabeth, was crossing Elizabeth avenue a block or so below Spring street, when he noticed a team without a driver, when he noticed a team without a driver. avenue a block or so below Spring street, when he noticed a team, without a driver, slowly jogging toward him. Stopping horse, he was horrified to see the body of a man hanging between the whittletrees, and the horse suspended by the right foot, which was tightly wedged under the low iron rail on the footboard of the wagon. The man's head rested on the street pavement, and the skull was frightfully crushed and mangled. Despite the mutilation of the head and face the body was recognized as that of Mr. Barrett. He had for years been subject to api-leptic fits, and while so afflicted had been unconscious and helpless. While driving along the avenue he was undoubtedly attacked by one of these fits, fell forward, and his foot catching in the foot-rail he was suspended head downward. Death probably ensued the minute his skull struck the rough pavement, and as the horse continued to jog along the body was dragged over the pave ment and mangled as above described.

We have these goods in all sizes and at prices within the reach of all. These goods are superior to anything of the kind on the market. To mention one point in the many of these brands: the air in the refrigerator is not only cold, but perfectly dry. The machinery about the freezer, unlike that of any other make, is entirely protected, thus preventing it from being clogged with ice or from mashing your fingers. The Cooler is made of the best materials, on scientific principles. We sold a great many of these goods in this city the past season, and we can refer to any purchaser for a recommendation. 1888 ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE 1888 eighty-ninth year of its existence and is not only the oldest paper in the State, but, with very few exceptions, in the country. Not. withstanding the fullness of its years, it has kept, and will continue to keep abreast of the times in all that pertains to a news paper, furnishing its readers daily with a perfect mirror of passing events, domestic and foreign. Its facilities for obtaining news as they increase are taken advantage of and used for the benefit of its readers, who are thus kept thoroughly posted as to all that is of interest politically, socially, financially and commercially. Special attention given to matters concerning the State and its welfare, while its local columns contain all that is of the slightest interest to A andria. Its regular correspondence from Washington and Richmond are seatures; peculiar interest, as attested by the eagerness with which they are read and copied by other papers, while its editorial depart ment, conducted with reference to the best interests of the city, State and country, will continue to advocate what is believed to be right, just, honest and patriotic. With a view to the interests of merchants, farmers, and all interested, its commercial columns are carefully edited and its market reports are acknowledged by all to be faithful and accurate. Through all this section of the State and in all parts of the country where Virginians have located, there will the GAZETTE generally be found, and thus as an advertising medium it has few equals outside the large cities. In the household, counting room and workshop, it is an ever welcome visitor, acceptable alike to old and young, the grave and the gay.
